

Why Is WAVERLY HOWARD DIFFERENT?

WAVERLY HOWARD KNOWS OUR PROBLEMS. He was raised in a one parent home on welfare. He went to public schools. He had to leave City College to support his family. He's been a newspaper carrier, an iceman, a dock worker, a garment worker, a postal worker, a construction worker and a fireman.

He was decorated four times for risking his life to save others. He had to retire when he was injured while fighting a fire.

Today he works in a special research program to prevent hepatitis.

Jobs are only part of his story. He's volunteered a lot of his free time to help the community.

He's taught English to suspended pupils (for no pay). He's worked at Phoenix House as an addiction aide (for no pay). He serves as co-Chairperson of a Mitchell-Lama Board of Directors (for no pay). He's on NENA's Health Care Board of Directors (for no pay). Send a Firefighter to Albany 63 A.D. Lower East Side. Democratic Primary, September 14, 1976.
